

Building the Batavia Riverwalk was once a dream, but our community rallied around a vision to improve our riverfront and to create a unique venue for us to come together to celebrate, enjoy nature, appreciate the arts and collect our thoughts. Perhaps you weren't part of the 8 years of construction, are a new resident or were one of our dedicated Saturday workers. Whoever you are... we invite you to join us as we roll up our sleeves together.

What are you doing to make it happen?

CHALLENGE #1

To raise $100,000 in 100 days.

expertise or are able to get materials donated or at cost, be sure to indicate that as well.

CHALLENGE #2

To build the addition in 175 days using mainly volunteer labor; we break ground in June 2008.

What will the expansion include?

Outdoor and indoor storage for the Peg Bond Center, a band shell addition with 1,050 square foot tiered performing arts stage, lighting and sound to expand our ability to draw theatre, bands, orchestras and outdoor performances for the community to enjoy.

How do I volunteer? Easy. Just fill out the form on the right and mail it in. A volunteer will contact you later this spring to let you know when our work days are or check www.its-coming.org for updated information. If you have a professional

Every dream needs financial support. This project intends to aggressively raise $100,000 in 100 days to keep to our schedule of completing the expansion in 2008. Whether you can give $10 in honor of the Riverwalk's 10th anniversary or $2,500 to sponsor one of 6 pillars, all gifts are appreciated. How about being one of 175 community members to join the 175th anniversary level? Donate $175 and in return receive an engraved, numbered, limited edition brick taken from the Riverwalk where the stage will be built.

Batavia ranked #21 in the country in 2007 as "Best Places to Raise Your Kids" by Business Week. What are you doing to instill community values in your family? Let's build it together...again.
